src > Data > dataImport.js > ...
1 const dotenv = require('dotenv')
2 const mongoose = require('mongoose')
3 const fs = require('fs');
4 const Tour = require('../models/toursModels');

The left sidebar contains icons for file operations such as Open, Save, Find, Replace, and Settings. The main editor area displays a JavaScript file named "dataImport.js". The code defines two asynchronous functions: "importData" and "deleteTour", both using the "Tour" module. It also includes conditional logic to run either function based on command-line arguments ("--import" or "--delete").

const importData = async ()=>{ try { console.log('Tour Create Succesfully ...');
